

From - the - Dean

Research led by Jacob Sosnoff, Ph.D., associate dean for research, was highlighted in a recent article from KU Medical Center News. In it, he shares his team's work on developing ways for older adults to fall without sustaining serious injury. Their research also received national attention in an article from the Wall Street Journal. Nice job.

Occupational therapy faculty member Renee Rains, OTD, was voted in as a member of the board of directors for the Haiti Rehabilitation Foundation. The nonprofit's mission is to educate Haitians in the art and science of physical and occupational therapy. Congratulations.

Lesa Skubal, DNAP, a 2023 graduate of our doctoral program in nurse anesthesia practice, has a paper published in the fall issue of the International Student Journal of Nurse Anesthesia. It is titled "Management of a Patient with Beckwith-Wiedemann Syndrome." Well done.

KU's 24-hour fundraising campaign, One Day. One KU., will be held February 15 from midnight to 11:59 p.m. Current occupational therapy student Jenna Shaw is featured in this year's campaign page video to highlight the impact your contributions have on the success of our students. You can help us reach more people by becoming an ambassador for our school. Ambassadors receive a digital toolkit and are eligible to win prizes.

Please be safe, and thank you for all that you do.
